

Pavo NervControl

Relaxing your horse

Sensitive horses can be easily spooked and stressed. You have to take these specific characteristics into account. Pavo NervControl helps your horse to regain inner peace and tranquillity in a natural way. Within a few days the horse is noticeably calmer. Active elements such as magnesium and L-tryptophan are pre-cursors for the neurotransmitter serotonin and help to improve signalling in the nervous system. That's why tension in the body is neutralized quicker and the horse is calmer and more controllable.
